

Student Field Trips With PLP Providers

Members are advised not to book student field trips with organizations that are PLP providers.

At this time of year many teachers will be making arrangements for field trips for the next academic year. Members should check whether the organization to which they intend to take students is listed as an accredited provider of recertification courses on the College of Teachers website.

Members should only support organizations that respect the professionalism of elementary teachers.

Organizations that offer programs that have been accredited by the Ontario College of Teachers for its Professional Learning Program are actively undermining the professionalism of Ontario's teachers.

Members are advised:

- Not to book student field trips with organizations that are PLP providers.
